Projects

WHO - your life into a movie

Members: Diogo Pessoa de Andrade

"WHO - your life into a movie" is a cross-media format that merges traditional TV with user interaction and co-creation (user-generated content). Based on traditional episodes of dramatic fiction presented in serial formats the WHO project aims to formalise a loose interactive framework that will allow anyone to contribute and participate in the story we will create together.

Being based on a novel structure, the WHO project aims to create a relationship between the audience and the novels main characters. By allowing the audience to create the profiles of new characters, people can directly influence the narrative told.
